FACULTY SPOTLIGHT: ANANKI.AI

New to ABLS 2026, HCLI is proud to welcome ananki.ai as programme faculty.

Co-founded by Dr. Florian Klein (ex-Head of Deloitte's Strategic Foresight practice) and Dr. Chris Wagner, ananki.ai brings best-of-breed strategic foresight methodology combined with next-gen AI innovation.

Together, Florian and Chris will lead ABLS participants through a rigorous foresight journey that blends analytical depth with real-world pragmatism.

They will help board leaders make sense of complexity and turn uncertainty into confident action. Through their AI-integrated methodology for delivering boardroom-ready strategic insights, participants will:

- Identify driving forces, decode critical trends and critical uncertainties
- Develop scenario narratives and extract strategic implications
- Develop strategy, wind-tunnel it against scenarios, and craft future-proof options

With ananki.ai, the 2026 summit in Singapore will address three major themes:

- 1 How to navigate a volatile, unpredictable, complex and ambiguous world
- 2 How to make good decisions in view of uncertainty
- 3 How AI redefines decision-making and strategic foresight

PROGRAMME DESIGN APPROACH

WHAT WE DO

We develop global leaders who combine a deep understanding of leading in Asia with the most progressive approaches in leadership development. Through our network connecting business, government, and academia, we foster collaboration and insight exchange — all in pursuit of advancing human capital excellence.

THE HCLI ADVANTAGE

Asia Focus

We take the best in leadership development from around the world and apply them to Asia. Global business leaders need to understand Asia — and that's where HCLI provides the insights, leaders and networks that make the difference.

For Leaders by Leaders

We bring together world-class faculty and speakers from Asia and beyond — who are accomplished leaders in their fields — to deliver the most relevant and impactful leadership development experiences.

Practitioner Focus

We believe in a progressive, practitioner-focused approach to leadership development, one that is cutting-edge, world-class, and grounded in real commercial impact and practical application.
